

Eva Claiborne
Master Esthetician

Schooled in the renowned Hungarian tradition of effective skincare therapy, Eva Claiborne is an innovative and experienced Master Esthetician and Perioperative Aesthetic Specialist with over forty years of experience. Eva provides the highest level of skincare and spa services, designed to achieve and maintain healthy beautiful skin from head to toe. In addition to her extensive European and American training, Eva has developed her own approach to skincare and launched a comprehensive line of pre- and post-operative products for plastic surgery patients — TITOK naturals®. TITOK naturals® patent pending Pre & Post Operative Wellness Treatments were formulated in conjunction with top dermatologists and plastic surgeons to address all patient needs. The line is a result of decades of experience on a global scale that embodies Eva's unique philosophy — people need to be more gentle with their skin. Instead of stripping the skin with harsh products, a regimen of non-abrasive products and custom treatments will bring overall well-being, both before and after cosmetic procedures and surgery. The treatments are beneficial for both elective and required surgeries.

Qs

What are some common misconceptions people have about cosmetic surgery?
That the work is done when you leave the doctor's office. A week after surgery, when the stitches are out, patients should begin a series of postoperative wellness treatments to boost the lymphatic system. This helps relieve pain, reduces swelling, minimizes bruising, and speeds up the healing process.

What kind of facials do you offer?
So many! Along with the 80 minute HydraFacial-Platinum, one of our most popular treatments is the Hungarian Bliss. This facial combines the remarkable effects of Hungary's mineral-rich thermal waters with the science of mineral cosmetology — a delivery system that enables a potent blend of minerals to be absorbed by the epidermis and dermis to cleanse, nourish, protect, and restore the skin's natural balance.

What is your favorite summer skin care product?
I love layering TITOK naturals® Antioxidant Serum under my SPF. This high potency multi-C cocktail drenches the skin in an infusion of powerful antioxidants and offers advanced protection from photo aging, UV damage and hyperpigmentation. It's loaded with good-for-you ingredients like astaxanthin — the strongest antioxidant vitamin in nature — and ferulic acid, which neutralizes free radicals and helps to prevent UV damage.
